The Presidents Scoop

Well, the weather is beginning to warm up and we are all anxious to try out all of the new things we have done to our GTOs over the winter. As some of you know, Santa brought me a new Tremec 5 speed overdrive transmission and he brought Terrie some Vintage Air Conditioning for those very warm cruises to the GTO Nationals in June and July. We have another Dyno Day scheduled for April 21st so those of you who have been working on your engines; this is your chance to see what the improvements bring on the Dyno.

Kerry Friedman is looking for a couple of volunteers to assist him in his Charity endeavors. The Gateway GTO Club will be one of several car clubs working the Wheels in Motion Car Show on September 9th to benefit Children's Cancer Research. This is a very worthwhile cause and Kerry has many ideas to assist in making this event very successful. I believe we will need some donated items to assist with fund raising so begin thinking of items you have or can get from some of companies you deal with. We have until September but the time will go quickly. Any suggested fund raising items should be directed to Kerry. We will also need all of our member's GTOs at this event and some of those members to assist the show. I am sure we will not have any problem coming up with enough man or women power.

The Easter Bunny will again visit our club in the form of the Easter Car Show in Forest Park. The show is sponsored by the St. Louis Horseless Carriage Club and we will be joining the Arch Chapter of POCI in an All Pontiac Display. The cost is $15.00 and you must send your money to Will Bowers by March 15th in order to reserve your space.

This will be a very busy year with all of the many very exciting activities planned for the remainder of the year. I hope we have something for everyone but if not, please feel free to send your suggestions to myself or one of the other Officers. We are ready, willing to listen to any ideas that will make this Club even better.

March GGTOA Minutes

The monthly meeting started at 7:03 PM. There were 27 members plus about an equal number of associate members and guests including Bruno Stopha (spelling suspect) and son.

OLD BUSINESS: The results of the Grand Prix racing event were summarized (everybody gets faster with additional practice and heavily loaded racers don't go quite as fast).

The article in the Legend about the club PROM event was mentioned.

John Culiberk showed very nice shirts embroidered with the club logo, PONTIAC on each arm, and individual member names that will cost in the vicinity of 38 to 41 dollars depending on the number ordered. We need to get out orders mailed, emailed or phoned to him.

Terrie is looking into jackets for the women.

NEW BUSINESS: Kerry Friedman talked about the Cancer charity multi-discipline car show to be put on at Westport September 9th

Marty reminded us about the Comedy Forum night coming up Saturday March 24th at 7:15 PM. Marty needs a head count. His phone number and email address can be found on the website.

Easter car show is being planned in conjunction with POCl. $15 per entry must be received by Will on or before 3/15 2007.

An Illinois cruise will be set up by Darrell and Tootie May (who are basking in the sun in Florida presently) for April 14th. Details will be in the Calendar on the website as they are available.

Dyno day at St Louis Power Tuners is April 21st at St Louis power tuners. 9 AM, $40 with lunch included in the price. 3 dyno runs with printouts of Torque, HP, air to fuel ratios included.

The River Port Swap Meet is set for April 29th.

The Muscle Car Cruise is set for May 5th. The itinerary link is on the website.

It is not clear if the July meeting (which would fall on July 4th) will be shifted to some other date. Since the GTO Nationals are from June 26th to June 30th, a shift seems likely.

TECHNICAL SESSION: Omer Phelps distributed informative handouts about LSX engine/transmission engine swap/tuning data. These modern computer controlled drivetrains have much to recommend them (much power, better gas mileage, lower emissions, neat look, and Omer can help us make them run and last). Thank you Omer.

OTHER ITEMS: It was mentioned that Cecil Morton and Joyce Nettle are both doing well with treatments for their health problems.

Will Bowers retirement was mentioned. Congratulations on lasting so long. And hopefully you will be the club treasurer for another 23 years.

The Club Store has embroidered patches for sale for $5 each. Tom showed a sample of the antenna flags that will be available.

Earl Lewis reminded us of the KSHE-95 Rock and Roll car show on April 22nd. Registration is $20. Information is at www.kshe95.com.

Tom's pavement pounder article is in the April issue of High Performance Pontiac.

The 50-50 drawing was held and Rich Vie won $37.

The meeting was adjourned at 9 PM and many of us went outside and talked (mostly about cars) in the very cool evening air.

WHICH ONE OF THESE PONTIAC PEOPLE BEST DESCRIBES YOU?

1. How do you view Pontiacs?

a) With the reverence reserved for heads-of-state and movie stars. Pontiacs are a lifestyle that isn't dictated by resale value. Nothing could replace the feeling of cruising down the road in a Pontiac-especially a fast one.

b) Pontiacs are a great way to relive my youth. I wanted one since high school and was finally able to get it and a few more. I enjoy owning and sharing them with my family. It's also great that they are now worth so much as I may cash in one of my "accidental investments" if prices continue to climb.

c) Pontiacs are great! They are pulling harder than Mustangs on the auction block right now. If I could just land a R/A-IV cheap and turn it quickly, I'm looking at a retirement plan.

2. When will you sell your Pontiac?

a) They better dig a big hole when I go because they're gonna have to bury me in this thing!

b) Possibly within 3-5 years or sooner if I get an offer I can't refuse.

c) As soon as the paint's dry!

3. Your Pontiac lets out puffs of blue smoke from the tailpipes-sometimes noticeable, sometimes not.

Engine work is eminent. What do you do?

a) Nothing short of complete rebuild will suffice. I'll tear it down tonight, get the bottom end and heads to the machine shop tomorrow, and start ordering parts the next day. I may have to call in sick a few days to get the engine rebuilt before the next event.

b) I'll take a look at it this weekend. Hopefully it's just valve guides so I can have the heads rebuilt and save the cost of a major overhaul. If can't isolate the problem, I'll have to bring it to a mechanic.

c) Let's see, it has to not smoke long enough to go across the auction block. I got it---Motor Honey!

4. After two years of waiting, it's finally time to paint your GTO. Then your oldest son brings happy news from the dentist's office---for the dentist! Your kid needs braces, and you can't swing the cost of both mouth metal and paint. What do you do?

a) Instead of having the body shop shoot my Pontiac, I'll have to do it at home to cut costs. The high-dollar base/clear paint system will have to give way to single-stage paint. Hell, it was good enough for PMD originally, so it's good enough for me. I may miss a school play or baseball game or two, but my kid needs braces and I have a responsibility to my family.

b) The appointment with the orthodontist is already made. The money will come out of my resto budget. I hope the body shop understands that I'll need another three months before I can pay the bill for paint.

c) Though I can claim them as dependents each year, kids still cost money, and I'm married to my work anyway, so this question doesn't even apply to me. I do however like the cheaper single stage paint idea. Nobody will tell the difference and I can up my percentage of profit on the car when it sells!

5. Through a friend's uncle's cousin's wife's nephew twice removed, you hear about an old GTO in a farmer's barn. It sat for 30 years but runs and has no rust. There's 7,000 miles on it and by the way, it's a '70 with a R/A IV engine. The cost is $25,000. What do you do?

a) Damn that's expensive. I'll probably have to sell off stuff to buy it. But it's a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to own a time capsule that probably still has Pontiac air in the tires. I have to drive this car! After I examine every inch of it to make sure it's mechanically sound, that is. It is expensive though-I mean, come on, the car was like 5 grand new.

b) I know the price is fantastic, but $25,000 is not easy for me to raise. Possibly I can join with a family member or friend and we can share the cost, restore it, and drive it for a while before we sell it for a profit that can fund my other projects.

c) Hot damn, there is a god! I'll offer $17,000 to this hillbilly on the spot. He'll take it because he's never seen that much cash before. Then it's off to the quickie-lube for a once-over mechanically and over to the detail shop for a buff job. This GTO will probably put well over $100,000 profit in my pocket for a day's work.

YOUR SCORE

If you chose mostly:

a) You are Pete Pontiac, a diehard who lives and breaths the hobby and is amazed at the current selling prices. At the same time, you're somewhat depressed by them as you see many Pontiacs you would like to own quickly moving beyond your financial reach. The day job and sometimes even the family take a back seat to your passion, through which you have cultivated a deep mechanical and historical knowledge that's only eclipsed by your respect for the product and all those responsible for creating it.

Though you are a dedicated hobbyist and a rare breed who should be acknowledged for your loyalty, you are ill-suited to competing in musclecar auction circles and should instead enjoy your Pontiacs as John DeLorean intended.

b) You are Johnny On-the-Fence, a loyal hobbyist who enjoys your Pontiacs as much as anyone else, yet you also know that someday you will sell if the situation is right. The family is first, as is the house and the daily transportation when it comes time to pay the bills, and if pressed, your Pontiac(s) will have to go to ensure the aforementioned items are cared for properly, but it won't be sold unless the situation is truly dire or the offer is too good to be true.

You may have the gumption to do well at the auctions, but your conscience and wallet must be your guide should you enter the fray, and at times, they can be at odds with one another.

c) You are Paulie Paycheck, ever in search of the "Next Big Thing." Consider yourself a speculator or an entrepreneur---if there is money to be made, you will be there. You are into Pontiacs with equal parts reverence and prospective profitability and are trying to earn a living from the hobby in which you indulge. You follow the market trends closely and ride the wave of cash until it crashes to beach break, at which point, your financial endeavors will be directed elsewhere, though you'll keep a couple of Pontiacs for yourself.

A take-no-prisoners attitude toward buying and selling Pontiacs will probably serve you well in the short term but may become a problem if you stay in the hobby for the long haul. Your reputation is your calling card and tarnishing it will diminish that long-term windfall you are seeking by maximizing short-term profits.

Murder in the W.U.R.S.T Dinner Mystery Theater at Royale Orleans

March 3 2007

By Vic Nettle

The Gateway GTO Club attended the Mystery theater in mass: Tammy and Steve Hedrick, Cory and Paul Jenkins, Joyce and Vic Nettle, Terrie and Tom Oxler.

The food was excellent, drinks were reasonably priced, the plot was impossible to figure out (as is usually the case at this type of event). Good fun with very hammy acting. And as it turns out the husband killed his wife. They say the spouse is the most likely suspect, and it held true this time.

The cast was 14 persons so the number of combinations of perpetrators and accomplices was 14 x 13. The number of possible motives was fairly large too. I think nobody in the audience of about 150 persons figured it out correctly. Regardless, attendance prizes were given out and at our table Steve won a wurstwatch (wristwatch).

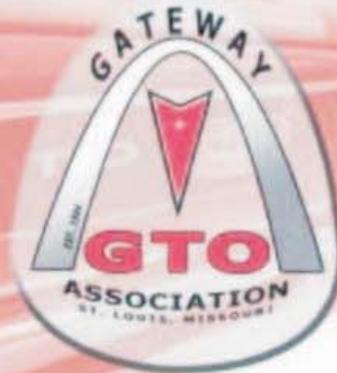

On the way home we heard Paul and Cory's 2006 GTO with wild camshaft and exhaust. It is about 19 decibels louder than the factory setup (SWAG).
